Hendricks Secures the Second Place by a Unanimous Vote.

GROVER CLEVELAND
The Democracy's Choice.

On the Streets.

Chicago, July 11.—It is understood this morning that Randall will withdraw and permit the vote of Pennsylvania to be cast for Cleveland. This gives great hopes to the friends of that candidate, that he will be nominated on the second ballot. On the other hand, the opposition under the lead of Butler and Kelly will make an effort to prevent an increase of Cleveland's strength on the second ballot in the belief that it will then be possible to turn the tide to some other candidate, possibly to the representative of the old ticket, Mr. Hendricks.

Hon. Patrick Walsh, expresses the opinion to the associated press that Cleveland will be nominated on the first ballot this morning, the second ballot of the call.

PROPHETS SPEAK.

The following telegram has been sent to the democracy of Cuyahoga county:

We, the undersigned, your representative in the national convention, familiar with the entire situation, are satisfied that neither Judge Thurman nor Mr. Hendrick is to be nominated; that Thurman's name is suggested simply by Tammany and other interests opposed to Cleveland, and we believe that Cleveland will most likely be nominated.

W. W. ARMSTRONG,
JACOB MUELLER,
J. H. FARLEY.

THE CONVENTION

was called to order at 11 o'clock and prayer was offered by Dr. Clinton Locke, of Grace church, Chicago.

He prayed that the consultation of the body be for the furtherance of just and equal laws, for the presentation of liberty, for the punishment of wrong doers and praise worthy of those who do well. That every delegate should be kept from being guided by his own selfish gain, by his own pride or his own likings or dislikes. He prayed that in the great and noble contest which was opening before the American people there would be a cessation from strife and anger, that men's eyes should not be blinded to that which is fair and just. That all

CORRUPTION, BRIBERY AND ILLEGAL VOTING

be kept far away and that after the election the whole people may unite in their support of the president.

THE CHAIRMAN

said he had received among other letters and telegrams from all parts of the country, one from Mr. Goodwin, of Massachusetts, with the presentation of a gavel made up from woods and relics from different parts of the world. A delegate from Pennsylvania, moved that the convention now proceed to business.

A second ballot was then ordered. Mr. Snowden, of Pennsylvania, with thanks to those who had voted for Samuel J. Randall, withdrew that gentleman's name.

THE SECOND BALLOT

was commenced at 11:20 with the following results:

Alabama—Bayard, 14, (cheers); McDonald, 1; Cleveland, 5. (Cheers.)
Arkansas—Cleveland, 14. (Cheers.)
California—Thurman, 16.
Colorado—Cleveland, 6.
Connecticut—Cleveland, 12.
Delaware—Bayard, 6.
Florida—Cleveland, 6; Bayard, 2.
Georgia—Cleveland, 14; Bayard, 10.
Illinois—Hendricks— (Here there suddenly broke out a cheering and waving of hats, fans and handkerchiefs.

SCENE OF WILD ENTHUSIASM

General Palmer arose to announce the vote and said, "Illinois casts one vote for Thomas A. Hendricks," and then paused as if waiting for the outcome of some preconcerted arrangement. He cast his eyes towards the Missouri delegation and apparently in response Gen. Mansur, of Missouri, jumped up and

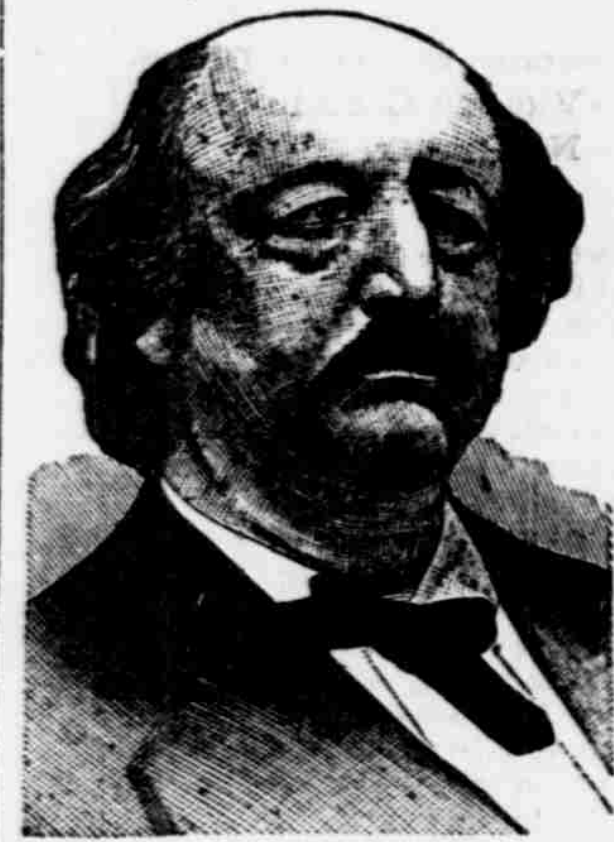

EMITTED A TERRIFIC YELL.

This was immediately taken up by the audience and a tremendous howl arose from all parts of the hall. South of the space allotted to the delegates the excitement and noise swept gradually around among the audience in the rear of the delegates and rolled in a tremendous wave through the vast masses of spectators, congregated in the north end of the chamber. The chair rapped splinters off his table in an effort to curb the demonstration, but he might as well have attempted to stop the excitement had been confined to the audience with the exception of a few enthusiastic delegates, who, remaining in their seats, waved their fans and handkerchiefs. At length a little commotion was visible in the New York delegation, and the grim visage of the grand sachem of Tammany was seen slowly rising out of the confusion, like the light on a dark night.

MR. KELLY'S MOUTH WAS AS WIDE OPEN as the large orifice of a pound net, but whatever individual noise was being emitted by that gentleman was drowned in the frightful uproar which took possession of the hall. Mr. Kelly's arising appeared to be the signal for a general demonstration on the part of the anti-Cleveland men of the convention. Delegates from all parts of the space within the railing sprang upon their chairs and raised a yell of such intensity that the putty dropped out of the immense sashes which composed the roof of the hall. Prominent among the members of the body who assisted in creating this section of bedlam were the delegates from Indiana, Missouri, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and the Tammany end of the New York delegation.

In the midst of the turmoil the band struck up and the thundering noise of the demonstration raised in a volume until the strains of music were lost in the deafening uproar. One enthusiastic delegate from Indiana, Mr. Gibson, seized the Indiana marker and bore it to the chairman's desk. He passed up the aisle and shouted something in to the chairman's ear. The chair, however, refused to listen, but continued to thump the desk with his gavel and Mr. Gibson retired with a half uttered anathema on

HAIL TO THE CHIEF

THE INFERNAL IDIOT.

of anybody who would attempt to convert to mean time the audience and delegates vied with each other in producing ear-splitting noises which drowned out the voices of two or three dozen Cleveland men who were endeavoring to gain the ear of the chair, with all this turmoil about him. Governor Hendricks presented an external calm which contrasted strangely with the frenzy which possessed the vast assemblage. He sat as if frozen fast to his chair and resisted the determined efforts of

A HORD OF HOWLING DELEGATES

who tried to drag him to his feet. A number of the Tammanyites resumed their seats but Senator Grady danced about on his chair violently waving a newspaper and opening his mouth such a width that it seemed as if it could of itself take in and dispose of every Cleveland man in the New York delegation. A good old soul in the last gallery while engaged in flourishing a gingham umbrella dropped the weapon which floated down like a parachute and

ALIGHTED ON THE BALD HEAD of a venerable delegate from Ohio, flags, handkerchiefs, fans, coats, hats and shawls were brought into use by the Hendricks men in the audience, and a view of the audience was like that of an Illinois brush patch torn by a violent gale. All at once out of the terrific uproar came a blast like the blast of a in agony and Mr. Beck, of Indiana, materialized with a call for three cheers for Thomas A. Hendricks. The cheers were given with an almost venomous good will and were supplemented by a good old southern yell for Hendricks from General Mansur, of Missouri, having given vent to his exuberant feelings. Gen. Mansur forced his way through the crowd in the aisle and climbed up to the chairman's Vilas position with a statement that Missouri wished to cast its vote solid for Hendricks, but the chair with a few vigorous thumps of the gavel, which began to look worn and frayed at the edge, informed the Missouri man that he was out of order.

OUT OF THE CONFUSION ROSE THE CLAIRON VOICE

of Secretary Tom Bell repeating the call for the vote of Illinois, but neither from Illinois nor any other commonwealth came an audible response, except yells for Hendricks. The deafening uproar had now usurped the rights of all other business for a period of eighteen minutes which was going one minute longer than the Blaine demonstration in the republican convention a month ago. The erect form of

THE "TALL SYCAMORE OF THE WABASH"

Daniel Voorhees appeared at the side of the chairman and the noise and excitement generally died, and finally Mr. Voorhees voice was heard calling "Mr. Chairman." The Chairman said, "Gentlemen of the convention take your seats, the gentleman from Indiana has the floor." Mr. Voorhees then spoke as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION,

I understand there is a roll call of the states in progress at this time, I am reminded by the Chair that nominations are not now in order. I stand before you, however, at the unanimous request of the delegation of which I am member, to withdraw the name of J. E. McDonald. [here a wild burst of applause interrupted the speaker] for the purpose at the proper time for casting the vote of Indiana for Thos. A. Hendricks, renewed and tremendous applause.

At length the rest of the vote of Illinois was announced.

Now was the opportunity for the friends of the New York candidate and they availed themselves of it, the delegation from that state rising to their feet and cheering lustily, while the audience waved fans, hats and handkerchiefs. The spectators took part in the demonstration, but not to the same extent as in the case of Hendricks. After awhile the band joined with the air

"WE'LL NOT GO HOME TILL MORNING," which seemed to stimulate enthusiasm. The scene lasted three or four minutes.

Illinois continued—Bayard 4; McDonald 1. Illinois cast one vote less than the full number.

Indiana—Hendricks, 30.

Iowa—Cleveland, 22; Hendricks 4.

At this point the Pennsylvania delegation asked leave to

JOHN G. CARLISLE.

RETIRE FOR CONSULTATION

and a New York delegate objected but the chairman decided that the Pennsylvania delegation had the right to retire for consultation and it did so amid great excitement. During the confusion it was announced that another vote had been gained in Illinois for Hendricks, the vote there for stands

At this time all the delegates were on their feet and many of them were clamoring for recognition.

Florida changed her vote as follows:

Cleveland,..... 3

West Virginia changed as follows:

Cleveland,..... 10
Maryland changed her sixteen votes to Cleveland. The changes were so numerous and accompanied with so much uproar and excitement that it was almost impossible to keep track of them.

The Missouri delegation announced a change of thirty-two votes solid for Cleveland. This set off the enthusiasm again. The cheering was deafening and was carried to the New York delegation and a stuffed eagle, was carried in procession. The band struck up more patriotic airs and flags and banners were waved and the excitement gained fever point because the Cleveland vote had nearly reached the necessary two-thirds at this junction.

AND AN ANCHOR OF FLOWERS

When the success of Cleveland was certain some of the minority delegates left the hall. Outside and inside the uproar was tremendous. The change of California was announced as, for Cleveland 8; Thurman 8.

Mr. Menzies, of Indiana, changed the vote of that state to Cleveland and moved that the vote be made unanimous.

Illinois changed her vote of 44 to Cleveland.

Kansas changed also, for Cleveland 17, Bayard 1.

The chairman stated he would rule out of order the motion to make the vote unanimous until after the result was announced. California again changed her vote to 16 (solid) for Cleveland.

South Carolina changed, for Cleveland 10 Bayard 8.

Texas gave her whole 26 votes for Cleveland and Ohio changed her vote as follows for Cleveland 27, Thurman 10.

Tennessee changed her vote to Cleveland. Iowa transferred her twenty-sixth votes solid to Cleveland. At this moment

AN IMMENSE PAINTING OF GOV. CLEVELAND, was carried on the platform waiting to be set up when the vote should be announced, and while the vote of changing the votes was going on in the most confused manner.

JOHN KELLY LEAVES.

John Kelly, attended by some of his supporters left the hall confused and disgusted at his thorough defeat.

The votes of the states in detail were then (at one o'clock) announced by the clerk for verification. The general result was announced at 1:10 a. m. as follows:

GOING HOME.

The outward trains for the east were heavily loaded this afternoon, nearly all the eastern marching organizations taking their departure.

The "Americans" and Randall clubs of Philadelphia, paraded the streets before taking their leave, bearing in addition to their club banners, one inscribed with the name of Cleveland.

THE TAMMANY BRAVES, six hundred strong, took a special at 9 p. m. Some members view the outcome jocularly, but in the main the crowd showed a bitterness of spirit and some of the marchers displayed bits of crape in their button holes. I think the democratic party has committed "hari-kari," said one.

Several assertions are reported as coming from John Kelly, but he declared positively he had not conversed with any newspaper men and that he has not expressed any opinion on the situation and is not responsible for any statements coming from the Tammany members who may feel that they have encountered a poisonous defeat.

Mr. Manning and the majority of the New York delegation are exuberant but moderate in their speech. Mr. Manning says by majorities but we shall carry New York beyond any doubt. If the other democratic states do their duty Mr. Cleveland will occupy the white house after next March. The party at large in the state will give him as earnest a support as it did Mr. Tilden. I am safe in promising victory in New York state. There were great crowds outside the convention hall to hear the result of the balloting and heavy cheering followed the final result. Cannons planted on the lake shore took up the refrain and one hundred rounds were fired in rapid succession. It was half past five before the

CLEVELAND WILL SURELY CARRY NEW YORK.

was called and the first business done was the adoption of a resolution electing Mr. Vilas as chairman of
